Talleyrand Sees Some Hope for Nouveau Riche

Duke in Chicago on Way Here Thinks Manners May Improve.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD CHICAGO, Oct. 2 .- The Pike of Talleyrand with his wife the Duchess, formerly Miss Anna Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, after a three day stay in hicago will leave to-morrow for New York to renew old acquaintances. The Duke and Duchess have been traveling around the world since April. They came to Chicago by the way of San Francisco and Settle after a tour of China and Japa.

"I haven't been to New York yet this rip, for we have come here from the Northwest, but I imagine I will still reflect most pleasantly on my first visit," reflect most pleasantly on my first visit," he said to-day.

"I remember particularly the old ladies, how kind they were to me and how hospitable. Now there are so many new rich. Formerly they didn't spend money as they do now, even when they had it. I remember when William H. Vanderbilt had just inherited a large fortune—$70,000,000, I think. He lived in a house that was—well, not exactly shabby, but very modest."
"There is some hope for the nouveau yard," he added.

"Your home is in Paris?" he was asked. Whereupon the Duke answered
